

Life in Circles

- October Update

Season Complete!

So that's it, 2019 tick, job done... I have to say I've genuinely loved every minute and I can't thank all my clubs (Eastbourne and Mildenhall) for giving me the chance to ride week in week out plus also all the teams I've guested for at some point in the seasons (there's been quite a few) because as I always say the more meetings the better and I certainly did that so THANK YOU. To be fair October has been pretty quiet if I'm I'm honest on the racing side, but I'll tell you all what I got up to...

Mildenhall End of Season

An end of season do is all about saying thank you and celebrating what has been achieved in the year so although we didn't make the playoffs there was so many positives to take from the season as a whole and on a personal note I personally know as a rider I definitely improved a lot this year and that was topped of when I received the 'Graham Clarke Rider of the Year' award. But as well as the presentation side of the night it was just great to spend the night with lots of the people that I've become close with throughout the season.

NLRC

This meeting did not go to plan at all! It was staged at Scunthorpe and fair play to them to put the meeting on at such a late time in the season. Whatever could go wrong pretty much did and then the rain came and the meeting got abandoned after my 3rd ride so not the greatest but I came away safe which is the main thing sometimes.

Hit the Road

Due to October being the time of season when the racing is starting to die down it's been the perfect time for me to get on with learning to drive. I've had a few lessons now but it's not the same as riding my bike as quick as I can, but once I've got the theory test out the way hopefully I can pass the practical and then I'm well on my way. So I'll update you in next months edition to how that's going.

Final Few Meetings

Honestly I thought my season was done after the NLRC but as if I'm gonna turn down meetings. So I ended up getting two more, one at Plymouth for their last meeting of the year and my final one of the season at Monmore Green for the prestigious Golden Hammer! So Plymouth...They managed to get a really good lineup, which was effectively a championship and national league mix featuring Lawson, Barker, Perks, Newman and more. I came away genuinely well pleased with this meeting I scored 5pts but for me I came off some of the races literally saying to myself, "that's legit the quickest I've ever been round here" so I left buzzing I'm not going to lie.

The 'Ommer

The final one. The Golden Hammer! Honestly when you flick through the programme and see the 'roll of honour' it's quite staggering. So to be asked to be in the meeting is an honour and then just see what you can do. The meeting itself went well but I just missed out on a 4 way count back to make the final but overall it was a great way to end the season.

Overall

Overall although this month hasn't been too busy it's been busy enough with different things and for me I've ended the season on personal highs and I can't wait to get started next year already. And yes I know it's gonna be a long offseason.

Next month

November features the start of the pitbike season, Eastbourne's End of Season do, my theory test and lots more so to find out how everything goes check back next month. I hope you've all enjoyed and see you all soon.

Jason

Results

Scunthorpe (NLRC) 1,1,1 - 3
Plymouth (Individual) 1,1,1,2 - 5
Cradley (Golden Hammer) 2,2,3,1,2 - 10

Upcoming fixtures:

16th November
Eastbourne's End of Season Do